COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course covers all aspects of audio production to produce audio art works and or sound-tracks for film, video, performance and multimedia computing.

COURSE CONTENT:

The following elements are covered: Protocols hard disk recording, sound editing and mixing, digital and analogue audio effects, importing sound into a computing context, studio patching, sampling, sequencing, midi, sound synthesis, foley, the sound recording process both in the studio and in the field, microphones, introduction to audio/visual synchronisation and timecode, various portable analogue and DAT recorders, as well as an introduction to film/video soundtrack.

Advice to Students regarding workplace safety and hazardous substances

Students should be aware of the requirement to avoid eyestrain, back, neck and repetitive strain injury (rsi) through correct posture, chair positioning and taking a break at least once every hour. Students using, or planning to use, unorthodox materials in their class work are required to complete a Risk Assessment Sheet. This form must be signed by the lecturer and lodged with the Technical Assistant. Unorthodox materials are considered to be materials, solvents, chemicals and paints not covered by standard practice or tuition within the area.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Students will gain the conceptual, artistic and technical skills to develop studio based experimental sound or soundtrack works as related to their practice. This unit is vital to all students undertaking film and/or video projects. All students will gain proficiency on the basic operation of the sound studio. Various conceptual, stylistic, aesthetic and philosophical approaches to sound and sound design will be introduced through critical discussion of examples and project work.

ASSESSMENT:

To qualify for a passing grade all students must complete all set work, which is to be submitted on time. Where absences in excess of three (3) classes occur, students may be given a fail grade (UF).

Students must be punctual and participate in all class activities. The student should be expected to show evidence of the achievement of the course's objectives.

One formal evaluation of Satisfactory, or Unsatisfactory will be made mid-session and students will be informed by their class lecturer of this determination.
